border of China proper would be barren of any conceivable advantage. She has gained what she wanted in the extension of her southern frontier when the allies threatened Peking, and, as one of her diplomats remarked, could and would have taken more had she wanted it. But it is rather with reference to British interests that we would speak of Russian progress in Asia. The Steele is amazed that England "continues to shut her eyes to the manifest intention on the part of Russia to restrict her career in the East." And the Steele in thus writing evinces the usual misconception of British aims and interests in this part of the world. Our avowed policy—and the acts of our diplomats afford a most unmistakable proof of its sincerity—the more the pit—is to have no "career" at all in China, in the French sense of the term. If Russia annexed the whole of Mongolia and Tibet, she would not affect our "career," which is simply an ample protection for trade, one iota. Her Asiatic position in the event of war would be another matter, and as threatening British India might be exceedingly disadvantageous. But as regards the question of "restricting our career" in the far East, Russia may be acquited, despite the Steele's predictions, of any dangerous propensities.

THE STAMP COMMISSION.

This community of Hongkong is possessed of so peculiarly slow a temperament as regards public matters that we almost doubt whether it would not rather consent to put up with any inconvenience than take the combined action necessary to ensure its removal. Those who complain of the working of the Stamp Act, have now, however, the opportunity afforded them of individually placing their complaints and suggestions before the commission appointed to consider them, and will, we trust, make good use of the chance afforded. We have no part of the world except Hongkong, we should suggest a public meeting to "ventilate" the matter. But with the graphic illustration given by our friend the China Punch of the "large and influential meeting" to discuss the Revision of the Treaty before we must hesitate to believe that there would be much hope of getting a meeting together.

We trust that the Commission will make public not only the result at which it arrives but the correspondence which may be brought before it, as data would thus be afforded for arriving at an accurate idea of what was deemed objectionable, even if it could not be done away with. The colony is beginning to arrive at that stage of public opinion which deems a free and independent discussion of public acts, and the giving a full publicity to official intentions, an advantage rather than a thing to be avoided. We believe that the Governor is fully aware that there is no better safety-valve for discontent amongst Englishmen than an unlimited opportunity of discussion as to proposed measures. Much of the unpopularity incurred by the gambling license, which has resulted exactly as we predicted, would have been avoided had His Excellency's intentions been fully placed before the colonial and home public prior to their being carried out in the manner so properly stigmatized by the anti-license party. They would have denounced licensing at all, and we should have supported His Excellency in licensing to regulate and control, in which case His Excellency would not have had to deplore the "accidental" revenue which arises from his legislation. The clause under which His Excellency has become possessed of a "white elephant" in the shape of $130,000 of unavoidable revenue was introduced in an uncouth manner in a measure apparently intended primarily for the promotion of sanitary measures. Every vice followed by punishment; and hence His Excellency's present novel position in relation to the gambling revenue. He has been much more open with his Stamp Act, and hence his success with that measure.

LOCAL.

H. M. Troopship Tam-o'-Shanter arrived in harbour to-day, bringing 27 Officers, 652 N. C. officers and men, 64 women, 165 children, &c., and 4 horses, of the 1/X Regiment. She reports fine weather during the entire passage. The following are the details of departure during the outward voyage:—Left England 18th October, 1867, arrived at Gibraltar 23rd Oct. and left on 26th. Left St. Vincent on 2nd Nov.; Ascension on 14th Nov.; St. Helena on 18th Nov.; Simon's Bay on 12th Dec.; Table Bay on 1st Dec.; Algoa Bay on 17th Dec.; Mauritius on 21st Dec.; Algoa Bay on 27th Jan., 1868; East London on 18th Jan.; Algoa Bay on 20th Jan.; Mauritius on 8th Feb.; Penang on 24th Feb.; Singapore on 6th March; and arrived at Hongkong on 12th March.

We understand that the Great Circus Company, of which Mr. Wilson is proprietor, and which is now due in Hongkong from Calcutta, includes the following names of persons whose performances are said by the Calcutta papers to be very clever:—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas, Mille Eila Zovari, Mille Eleosse, Mille Adele, Mille Emma, Miss Emma, Herbert Mears, Frederick Taylor, A. Miller, Dan Lester, Herr Witter, J. Garbett, Dan and Joe Durcor, Mr. Talbot, Zouïd Gonzalez, Johnny Cook, Jim Corney, Jacob Cook, Jim Wister.

The following paragraph, from the Japan Gazette, possesses local interest:

Among the cases of general concern tried by Mr. Goodwin, were four in which the Captain and Owners of the Ellen, from Hongkong were the defendants and four Americans of Yokohama plaintiffs. The Ellen is owned by a Mr. Cadwallader, now lately of Hongkong. Goods were shipped on board of her, for delivery here—bills of lading signed by the owner. After their shipment, it should appear, that a charter was accepted to bring up cargo of coals for the Borneo Company—and the goods for which bills of lading had been signed were landed and stored by the owner.—On arrival of the ship they were not on board—and the witnesses stated that their goods had been sold by Mr. Cadwallader and the Ellen sent to the Haikwan Bank, now in high office at Tientsin, appropriated the profits of the establishment, and now that it has got into difficulties ignored all responsibility. We had heard the losses to foreigners fixed at $40,000, which is less than the amount mentioned by our correspondents. The only person against whom Mr. Cadwallader himself, who signed all the bills of lading through a Bank, Beyond this the ship itself had been mortgaged by Mr. Cadwallader and he had left Hongkong and gone to Shanghai. His Lordship gave his decision in this case to the effect that the Court had no power to relieve the plaintiffs. The only person against whom they could claim redress, was the owner, Mr. Cadwallader, who signed all the bills of lading except that of J. H. Marion's and his son, who was a captain of the ship. The Court had no power over the ship. Cadwallader could be proceeded against wherever he might be.

TODAY'S POLICE.

Charles E. Stewart, the individual who some time ago scandalized the officers of the 73rd Regiment by claiming to be one of them, was again brought up for being drunk and disorderly. Prisoner was yesterday arrested on the Parade Ground, while interfering with the manoeuvres of the Garrison parade. He implored to be let off this time, was fined $1 and sent about.

A Chinaman appeared to complain against some one who had created a disturbance in a brothel last night, but remarked that she did not wish to take out a summons until next time. His Worship expressed a hope that there would be no "next time." The woman then openly professed some broken silver to the interpreter, but she appeared intensely annoyed and much surprised when it was refused.

Leon Ashur, about 16th of last month, was shot down while in a hurry to depart from a shed at Shek-tung-isot; he had been in the Civil Hospital since, getting repaired by Dr. Cochran; and he was brought up this morning charged with the offence of burglary in the said shed. Sikh 351 said that he could not have caught the prisoner without shooting him, as he ran so fast.

His Worship remarked that the prisoner had nearly lost his life by giving himself to thieving; in fact, had it not been for the care and attention bestowed on him by the Surgeon, he might have died. He would now be kept securely for six months.

A Chinaman was ordered to be flogged for having committed a nuisance, and a placard was affixed on his back announcing the fact and the reasons for the summary punishment.

THE NORTH.

By the Eric King we have Shanghai papers to the 7th instant:

(N. C. Daily News.)

Prices for Griffins are certainly not on the decline, for at the sale on the 6th, one pony rated Ts. 220, another Ts. 110, whilst six or seven others were sold at prices ranging from Ts. 60 to Ts. 100. The high price is a white with a few spots, not unlike Joli Cewu in appearance.

The following particulars relating to the insurrection are given by a correspondent at Tientsin:—"On the afternoon of 4th February, news was received by the Tientsin Chinese authorities, and at once made known to the Consuls, that a large body of Nienfei rebels (anti-national, rumour said 30,000 to 40,000 fighting men) had burst into this province (Chihli), from Honan and the South of Shensi; and were advancing rapidly northwards, the latest accounts placing them at Hang-chow district city, lying about 350 li south from Tientsin. We later heard that His Excellency Chung, the new port Superintendent, in concert with the Chief Military Officer in Tientsin, had dispatched some 3,000 soldiers, including 1,000 of Chung's cavalry corps and 2,000 in a recent bank at that port, in the direction of the rebels. On the 8th February we learn that the rebels had surrounded Paotung-fu—the capital of this province, where the Governor-General and the other high civil officers have their families. To the same day the Chinese authorities and gentry of Tientsin began organizing the able-bodied natives into militia for the protection of Tientsin, and the ramparts around Tientsin, made by Saukoilung, were also being put into a state of defence by placing militia and guns at certain points. Banquet, on the morning of the 9th February, placed the rebels near the west gate (Wu-ching-men) of Peking. On the 9th February, Mr. Meadows, Chairman of the Municipal Council, sent round a circular amongst the members of the foreign community of Tientsin, calling a meeting at his house for 2 p.m. on the 10th February, to discuss the position in which the Tientsin foreign community were placed by the approach of the rebels, and to adopt protective measures against dangers which might arise, if the rebels attacked Tientsin city. On the forenoon of the 10th February, His Excellency Chung, accompanied by Chow, the intendancy of circuits, and Hung the salt commissioner, called on Mr. Mongan, H. B. M. Consul. He also met at Consul Mongan's house Commander Dunlop of H. M. gun boat Dare, Mr. Dick, Commissioner of Customs, and Mr. Metcalfe, Consul for the United States of America, Denmark and Holland. He explained to the gentlemen present the exact position of affairs, stating when the rebels had reported to have reached, and what measures he had adopted with the forces at his command.

(N. C. Daily News.)

YOKOHAMA.—News brought yesterday by the Adel, strengthen the anticipation we lately expressed, that political difficulties in Japan were tending to a peaceful solution.

Sōshū is in retirement at Yedo; i.e. reported to decline further fighting, and to have declined to accept political extinction.

The work of replacing his officers by those of the party now in power continues. The Mikado has expressed his willingness to undertake the obligations of existing treaties.

Mr. Satow of H. M. Legation and Dr. Wilson have gone to Kyoto, ostensibly for a trip; and it is thought that the Ministers will shortly visit
